Second Annual

Family MATH Night

Last year, St. John's math teachers, under the guidance of the administration, organized the first Family Math Night for our students and families. We still remember the happy faces of students and parents competing and trying new ways to solve math problems. Thank you again to all who were able to attend and to those who have sent us feedback. This year, we look forward to seeing all of our families participate in another fun and successful Family Math Night!

Who: All SJS families K4-8th

Where: Classrooms, library, and gym at SJB

When: Thursday, March 9th, 2017 6:00-7:00

What: Families visit classrooms together and participate in the activities that the math teachers offer. A list of activities, including details regarding grade levels and concepts, will be available that night. You will have the opportunity to read through it and decide what looks good for your family! We suggest you start in your oldest child's homeroom.

Goals of the night:

- Promote family time focused on math. Parental attendance and interest in this type of activity reinforces for our students the value and importance of their math education.
- Provide an opportunity for students to show off their own math skills and to guide and help their parents and siblings.
- Connect busy parents, students, and teachers with each other to build an even stronger community.
- Provide families with ideas for activities and games they can play at home to further enhance math learning.
